

How to Get a Non-Member Tee Time

Active Duty and Retired Military

For Active Duty Military and Retired Military who are retired from 20 years of active service and are receiving full retirement benefits, and retired Reservists who have reached age 60 and are receiving retirement benefits.

The Naval Academy Golf Club is a university golf course owned by the U.S. Naval Academy and operated by the Naval Academy Golf Association. It is not a typical military golf course in that it is not operated by the MWR branch of the Navy.

1. To reserve a tee time, you may call (410)293-9747 the day before you wish to play.
2. When calling, please identify yourself as active duty or retired military.
3. You may reserve a tee time to play golf after 12:00pm. If there is space available, you may request an earlier time which can be arranged at the discretion of the Professional Staff.
4. You may reserve a time for one foursome, and you may bring up to three guests to play. Local guests are restricted to playing one time per calendar month, regardless of their host.
5. DOD employees not serving on the Naval Academy Faculty are not eligible to play the golf course on their own. DOD employees fall into the civilian guest category, and may only play as the guest of a member, or of an eligible golfer.
6. Reservists are eligible to play only while on temporary active duty, and must provide their duty papers when paying their greens fee. Retired reservists must meet the criteria listed above. Any other time, reservists fall into the civilian category.

The Naval Academy Golf Club is a spikeless facility. Metal spikes are not permitted. In addition, NAGA's dress code requires a shirt with a collar for men and does not permit blue jeans or cutoff shorts.

Midshipmen, Members & Faculty

If you are a Midshipman, an annual or monthly member at the Naval Academy Golf Club, active duty stationed at the Annapolis complex, or a full-time civilian DOD faculty member at the Naval Academy.
